

MMG Increases Requisition Approval Times by 70%

THE CHALLENGE

- Too many inboxes across many workflow systems
- Approvers are not always at the office, they are increasingly on site, in transit or somewhere in between
- Approvers don't always have connectivity to corporate systems
- Managers need proactive alerts, not more emails
- Approvers need a "walk-up user interface" - for many senior approvers, this is their primary system interaction

CUSTOMER FEEDBACK

"A good example of IT delivering innovation."

"I like that this puts my people out in the field, where they should be."

"One of the best, most successful IT projects in my 20 year career. I can't recall a project where people stopped you in the corridor to congratulate you."
